

UNDERSTANDING THE MALVERN HILLS
Saturday 3rd November 2018
St Andrews Church Hall, Poolbrook.

9.45a.m. Welcome and introduction.

10 a.m. Magma chambers and volcanoes, ancient and modern.
Richard Edwards, local geologist

10.50 a.m. Coffee break

11.10 a.m. Kemerton Quarry: Bronze Age landscapes, houses and households below Bredon Hill.
Robin Jackson, Senior Project Manager, Worcester Archaeology

12. 00 pm The secret life of snakes.
Nigel Hand, Reptile specialist, Central Ecology, Ledbury

1- 2pm Buffet lunch

2- 2.50pm From woolly mammoth to woolly sheep: a history of conservation grazing.
Beck Baker, Community & Conservation Officer, Malvern Hills Trust

2. 50 – 3.40pm
The King's Thirde: a 17th century layer of the Malvern Hills landscape revealed.
George Demidowicz, Honorary Research Fellow, Dept of History, University of Birmingham

Tickets on sale from 1st September from Malvern Hills Trust or Richard Edwards (redwards@waitrose.com)

£20 (includes buffet lunch)